Pier rangers stay

Overflow crowd in Waveland opposes pier management change

BY JANET MCQUEEN

A crowded room of spectators breathed sighs of relief Wednesday night with Waveland Mayor Stella Frilot's announcement that municipal pier rangers would remain in place for the coming year.

The previous night during a hearing on the proposed 1992-93 budget, Alderman Curtis Colson recommended removal of the 24-hour-a-day rangers who supervise the Garfield Lader Memorial Pier as a cost-cutting measure. The board was unable to agree and recessed until the following night.

As word spread throughout the city, an overflow crowd spilled out of the meeting room Wednesday to protest changes in management of the pier.

Resident Tim Kingston elicited a round of applause with comments that the ranger-managed pier "has been great for the community. You can send your kids out there and not have to worry about drugs, alcohol and riff-raff."

"If anything, the city should look at expanding the options at the pier...Waveland needs a harbor and a boat ramp. Right now we have something for our kids. We need to keep it," he said.

He also suggested residents may be willing to pay higher yearly dues than the current $12 per family fee to defray the city's expense. According to Alderman Stan Weidman, the city spent approximately $37,000 on the pier last year,

Waveland approves $3 million budget

BY JANET MCQUEEN

Waveland Mayor Stella Frilot broke a 2-2 deadlocked board of aldermen Wednesday in a recess meeting to approve the city's $3 million budget.

Aldermen Curtis Colson and Stan Weidman rejected the proposed budget, citing a proposed $7.50 per-household garbage collection fee and the projected income of $207,000 from those fees as their reasons.

Waveland residents don't pay specifically for garbage pickup at present. Mayor Stella Frilot indicated federally mandated requirements for disposal will cost the city additional money, which will be offset by the newly imposed fees.

The millage remains the same at 13.5, said Frilot. City employees will receive pay raises at an average of 4 percent.

Delinquent realty tax sales start

Delinquent realty tax sales for Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland will begin on Monday.

Edward Murtagh, Hancock County Tax Assessor/Collector said the number of parcels involved in the county and Bay St. Louis is about half as many as last year.

The county and Bay St. Louis bidding sale will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the board of supervisors meeting room on the second floor, Hancock County Courthouse. It will continue until the sale of delinquent parcels is complete.

Although the sale was scheduled to be held in the courtroom, Murtagh received permission from the supervisors earlier this week to hold the sale in the board room.

Sharon Jacob, Waveland tax collector, will conduct the sale for that city's delinquent property taxes at the front door of the City Hall, Coleman Avenue.

Realty property taxes are due each January.

Pate named fire marshal

BY TRACI BONNEY

Richard Paul Pate of Diamondhead was named the county's new fire marshal/fire services coordinator/arson investigator Thursday during a recess meeting of the board of supervisors.

Pate, 44, is originally from Texas and has been a resident of Hancock County for 20 years. He has served as chief of security for Gulf Coast Security Services for the last five years. Before that, he worked 14 years in the Diamondhead and Bay St. Louis fire departments.

He has one son, Jamie, a 16-year-old Bay High School student and starting lineman for the Tigers football team.

Richard Pate, a Methodist, is a past member of the Bay-Waveland Jaycees, a youth baseball coach in Diamondhead, and on leave of absence from the Diamondhead Rotary Club, "but I'll probably get back into it by the end of this year."

His new position with the county is contingent on his passing a required physical examination.

Pate, who was interviewed and recommended by the Hancock County Firefighters Association, replaces Jay Marsh, who resigned effective September 15.

Pate commented, "I would like to thank the Fireman's Committee for selecting me as their representative, and the County wastewater disposal systems declared illegal

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Residents of Hancock County are in a state of confusion and uproar as they hear many septic and wastewater treatment systems are now illegal following the July 1 passage of state Senate Bill 2562.

Wednesday night, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce hosted a public forum during which discussion of the bill revealed new guidelines for health department approval of wastewater disposal.

According to Dr. Brenda R. Clark, District IX supervising public health environmentalist for the state, depending on the size of the property, "some lots will eventually be declared unusable because it will be impossible to place a well and an approvable wastewater system on the property."

"The area with the most restrictions involves property which adjoins sensitive state waters...used for recreation and waters which support commercial fishing. Virtually all state waters in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties meet these criteria."

According to the county health department, the majority of the lands south of I-10 consist of soils which are saturated and therefore waste water overflow from septic tanks are unable to percolate down through the ground. Instead of underground absorption occurring, sewerage puddles form and waste water washes into canals, bayous and ditches.

The major emphasis, according to Clark, is that all wastewater be maintained on the property of the generator.

Setback requirements listed by SB 2562 include: 100 feet for all secondary treatment components of the complete disposal system (drain fields, rock/reed beds, mounds, drip irrigation fields, pressurized pipe systems, etc.) from adjoining waters; a 100-foot separation between a discharge point and any well; between residence and property lines, a 50-foot setback must be maintained from the discharge point which occurs on some of the alternate systems; and a 10-foot setback must exist between property lines and all other parts of the sewage system.

Hancock residents who are not on a city or county wastewater system, and whose property size falls under the necessary setback requirements for installation of a legal sewerage system are in violation of the July 1 law.

The law allows courts to fine violators up to $500 for each day the system is out of compliance. The health department

Clean water act inflames residents

BY TRACI BONNEY AND T.H. TOUPS

About 150 residents crowded into the Civic Center Wednesday for a Chamber of Commerce-sponsored meeting concerning a new law that renders much of the property in the lower half of Hancock County useless for residential development.

Dr. Robert Travnick and Brenda Clark, Ph.D., both officials with the Mississippi State Department of Health, fielded verbal and written questions from the irate audience members about a clean water act passed by the State Legislature during the summer.

The new law, effective July 1, virtually outlawed existing and proposed individual sewerage treatment facilities in most of the southern part of the county.

While outlawing individual systems, the law provides no legal sewage disposal alternative to residents of low-lying areas.

Chamber of Commerce president Basil Kennedy moderated the meeting and solicited written questions from the audience, which he asked Clark to answer and also said would be transcribed and forwarded to the State Legislature.

Questions that were submitted ranged from the legality of septic tanks to the involvement of local and state government officials in

Card of Thanks

Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 President Susan Piazza and National Security Chairman, Gertrude Duthu, with the help of Felton Cuevas, gathered and distributed boxes to local schools for collection and distribution of clothing and non-perishable foods for survivors of Hurricane Andrew.

The National Guard, located in Bay St. Louis helped to get these boxes to Louisiana in places where there was destruction after Andrew.

The teachers and students of the following schools were very cooperative in filling the boxes: Waveland Elementary, Bay Middle, Bay Elementary and Bay High. Many thanks to all who participated in this project.

A sincere thank-you to the businesses and merchants for their generous help and donations. They were Dollar General Store, Waffles Inc., Lil Rays, Winn-Dixie, Spanish Trail Market, Bea's Arcade, Waveland Drugs, Chevron Station 603, Caldwell's Grocery, and Wal-Mart.

Also assisting were The Church of God, the Reverend Charles Hand, Word of Faith Christian Fellowship and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

It was greatly appreciated that we had such wonderful help in time of crisis.

We would also like to thank the many people of this community for sharing; we can show our appreciation by patronizing these business places.

Congratulations to Susan Piazza and Gertrude Duthu for a job well done.

I am proud to be a member of Auxiliary 139. We are always willing to help in any community project.

Pearlington disposal site remains closed to trash

The Pearlington waste site will continue to accept household garbage although trash disposal is forbidden while work is completed to meet Department of Environmental Quality standards.

County road supervisor Sam Cuevas said the site's compactor is still in operation but all trash must be brought to the Standard dump located on C.C. Road off Highway 603 in northern Hancock County during this time.

He explained, "DEQ cited minor violations which must be corrected before trash acceptance can resume." Cuevas said he anticipates completion of the work within the next 10-12 days.

Hwy. 603 accident results in two hospitalizations

A two-vehicle accident, occurring at 5:45 a.m. Saturday, approximately 25 miles north of I-10 on Highway 603, resulted in two hospitalizations according to state highway patrol and Hancock Medical Center (HMC) authorities.

Corporal Houston Dorr of the Mississippi State Highway Patrol reported, "Wayne Patrick Becnel, 40, was driving a blue 1964 Chevrolet north on Highway 603 when he began to experience brake difficulty.

"Completing a U-turn into the south bound lane, Becnel began to reverse the car, when T.L. Wheeler, of Lakeshore, driving a 1981 Chevrolet suburban heading north, struck Becnel's vehicle on the driver's door."

Dorr said each car contained three passengers plus the drivers. All eight people were taken to HMC by Mobile Medic. All were treated and released, except for Becnel, who remains in guarded condition; and Doris Wheeler, who was reported in stable condition.

Hot Sticks to move to Stennis Airpark

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission approved the lease/purchase of the thermal building at Stennis Airpark to Hot Sticks of Bay St. Louis Monday.

The agreement renders use for building following one-and-a-half years of vacancy.

Commission director Harold "Buz" Olsen reported, Hot Sticks will pay $200,000 over a 25-year period. Of the total sales amount, $20,000 will be used for repairs and renovations to the building. Any monies remaining from the $20,000 will be applied as a down payment.

"This is the number one type of business we like to see in operation within our community," commission chairman Dave McDonald stated. "We would rather see people who will improve the building and stay."

According to Olsen, Kevin Pokallus began his operation 13 years ago in downtown Bay St. Louis. Using his education in engineering, he designed the equipment used for the manufacturing of the hickory sticks.

He said, Hot Sticks, drum sticks painted in vibrant colors, currently claims $500,000 to $1 million in yearly retail sales, adding, there are 3 million drummers in the United States alone, some using two and three sets of sticks per night.

Olsen said Pokallus cites considerations for future expansion as the primary need for the relocation of the factory.

Hot Sticks averages an employment of 10, but has had as many as 16 people working at one time for the company.

Future projects planned by Pokallus include: the machining of dowels for furniture or wood products manufacturers; producing a line of colored hammer handles; and seeking subcontract machine and/or assembly work from manufacturers in the wood products and electrical fields.

Anticipating even moderate success in these areas, Hot Sticks plans additional employment and opportunity for local residents.

board of supervisors for appointing me. I will strive to do the best job I can for the fire personnel and residents of Hancock County.

"We have a very good group of dedicated fire personnel in this county who give their time to make their fire departments the best they can be. Our volunteer departments have no paid personnel, but they answer fire and medical calls out of dedication and concern for their fellow residents.

"I think these men and women of volunteer fire departments should be recognized and applauded for their time and dedication."

PORT AND HARBOR

The supervisors approved a 25-year lease purchase agreement between the county Port and Harbor Commission and Hot Sticks Manufacturing for a building at Stennis Industrial Air Park. The building has been vacant about 1 1/2 years, according to commission executive director Harold "Buz" Olsen.

The supervisors also accepted a mutual aid agreement between NASA and the Port and Harbor Commission, which Olsen said pledges NASA's assistance in dealing with any future catastrophes in the county, including fires or storms.

PLAYGROUND

The supervisors approved bids for materials, equipment and labor totalling $11,405 for a playground/recreation center to be built on Lakeshore Road across from Gulfview Elementary School. The recreation area will include basketball and volleyball courts and play equipment (swings, seesaws, etc.).

The playground is to be paid for out of the county recreation department budget.

OTHER BUSINESS

The supervisors approved a request by the Waveland Animal Shelter that it be allowed to hold a benefit dance at the Civic Center, provided the dance be scheduled on a weeknight (Monday-Thursday), since the facility is heavily booked on weekends.

Consultant Tom Gregory told the supervisors the state's new homeowner's rehabilitation program no longer requires that project areas be within four blocks of each other, which means the county can apply for grant monies to help homeowners bring their houses up to health and safety codes.

After discussing some of the advantages and disadvantages of the new program, he asked if the supervisors were still interested in trying to obtain the funds, which would be available for 20 to 25 houses in the county if the grant application is approved. The supervisors asked him to leave some application forms with them.

The board had submitted a grant application under another, similar, program last year. However, much of the grant money last year was channeled into the Delta, based on the recommendations of the independent rating company reviewing the applications.

Both the county and the city of Bay St. Louis applied last year, and both are eligible to apply again this year.

Gregory said the city and county must submit their applications by October 9.

After finishing business, the supervisors recessed until September 28, 9 a.m.

Residents

passing and enforcing the law; from lot size requirements and what property owners could do if their lots were not large enough to conform to the setback and other regulations.

The audience members' anger boiled over several times as they refused to confine their questions to written form and verbally questioned Clark and Travnick, who are charged with enforcement of the new law, about property values, possible prosecutions and related issues.

Clark and Travnick said several aspects of the law are currently undergoing legal review.

One of the people posing questions was realtor Paul Seckso, who claimed the supervisors must take action.

He said that although it's too late to establish blame, he feels that the supervisors are at fault for allowing unsewered subdivisions to be developed in areas that should not have individual septic or sewerage systems.

"They didn't demand any kind of sewerage by the subdividers," he commented.

Seckso added he believed allowing the residents to vote on a county zoning code was a mistake, because the people rejected the code without fully understanding the benefits it offered.

Now, he said, the county is facing the problems created by a lack of a code.

Seckso also pointed a finger at the State Legislature for enacting the new law.

"Without any regard for the people or the impact that law would have on this area, they passed this law, and now we're stuck with fighting it," he said.

Originally, no "grandfather" clause existed in the law. Seckso said he understands that one will be added, but it only benefits those who had asked for and received a permit from the Health Department for their system. "And there aren't many people with permits, because the law doesn't require one."

"Even now, the law doesn't require a permit. You can build your house, install your septic or sewerage system, move in and settle down, but if you are in violation and they catch you, they can shut you down and fine you."

Seckso speculated that some complaints of violations will be filed by people who see a neighbor's sewage running into canals and bayous, or worse, onto their property, but he thinks that might be a good thing.

"The more the merrier," he said. "The thing that's going to get people marching in front of City Hall is people getting slapped with $50-to-$100-a-day fines."

He contended that anger may be the residents' best weapon. "If the people get riled up enough and quit paying their taxes, the county will lose its tax base. I'm not sure just how much of an impact it will have, but you can be sure it will have one."

He said the real dilemma now is not placing blame, but finding solutions. He and the other audience members were told that grant money is available for a county sewerage project, but the county would have to come up with matching funds. In addition, the installation of lines could take five to 10 years or more.

Tying lines into the current system would also be problematic, since according to a recent study, the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District's treatment facility is already close to its planned capacity, and Bayou Caddy Casino may be added to the system in the near future.

Seckso said that a good intermediate measure may be to allow treated effluent to be discharged into the waterways, until a more permanent step can be taken.

"If a sewerage treatment system is the lesser of the evils—and it is better than pumping raw sewage into the bayous and canals—then the state ought to allow the people to dispose of their wastewater that way. Meanwhile, the supervisors and the state ought to do something to solve the problem for good."

"Immediately, the only answer I see is to get some loosening of the law to allow people to put treated effluent into the waterways, while a permanent solution is sought."

Seckso said that if something isn't done, the local economy will be severely and adversely affected, because no real estate brokers can sell property; no home builders like Jim Walter Homes can construct; and no mobile home dealers can sell mobile homes.

Also attending the meeting was Ronnie Artigues, who owns a local construction business. Artigues was interested in knowing, as was just about everyone else present, what residents can and can't do.

He concurred that the supervisors will have to take the situation in hand.

"The board of supervisors has to do something. They need to pass a zoning code out in the county, so something can be done. That's what's holding us back, not having a code out there."

"They're either going to do it, or we're going to be dead in the water."

Blue Meadow Road closed to traffic Monday

Blue Meadow Road will be closed to all traffic Monday, Sept. 21, 1992 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The city will be conducting repairs to the drainage system on Blue Meadow Road in the area of the Winn-Dixie parking lot. During those hours, automobiles and light to medium trucks will be routed up de Montluzin Street. Large construction trucks and 18-wheelers will be routed through the Winn-Dixie parking lot, according to Ron Vannoy, director of public works.

and realized around $8,000 in revenue from the fees.

Ray Cuevas spoke from the audience that he had witnessed children jumping off the end of the pier as soon as a ranger was off-duty.

"I also saw an 8-year-old unattended. People think this is a babysitting service. I think any child under 12 should be accompanied by a grown-up," said Cuevas.

Several other residents defended the role of the pier rangers, noting cleanliness and safety as two of the benefits.

A motion by Weidman to set up an advisory committee on the operation of the pier died for lack of a second.

His suggestion for possibly restricting operating seasons for the public facility met with a resounding "no" from the audience.

Colson acknowledged his constituents seemed in favor of maintaining the pier as planned, and suggested as an improvement the installation of pay telescopes as a possible source of revenue.

Diamondhead resident Pat Reeb addressed the board regarding "a blind corner at Jeff Davis and St. Joseph streets" which she termed a dangerous intersection.

Following a discussion over the location of stop signs in the area, Frilot said she would look into the problem.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the board approved:

—a request for a $500 donation to the Bay Youth Football League by Earl Fayard;

—the rehiring of auditors Moore and Powell, CPA; —recognition of Earline Ruhr as Employee of the Month for September;

—permission for a Veterans Day parade on Coleman Avenue;

—Frilot's request to attend an Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) seminar in New Orleans (3-1 with Weidman opposing);

—request for purchasing agent Theresa Jones to attend a purchasing seminar in Biloxi;

—October 4-10 as Fire Protection Week; —minutes of last month's meeting; and —the claims docket (3-1 with Weidman opposing).

The board adjourned on a 3-1 motion by Bob Hubbard with Weidman opposing. Zeleda Farrell loudly protested the adjournment from the audience, where a number of residents remained as the board exited the room.

The next meeting will October 6 at 6:30 p.m.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Many are talking about the new laws which went into effect in July in reference to guidelines for individual wastewater systems.

What the new law does is, that unless an area is on a central sewer system in certain areas, on a canal, bayou, etc., the only way a person can legally construct a house is for the area to be on a central sewer system.

This leaves out thousands of lots in Hancock County in many of the areas with waterfront lots.

There will be no discharges of shell drains running into the waterways, according to the new law.

The government's Gulf of Mexico plan calls for the cleaning up the waters of the Gulf.

The waters from our bayous, rivers and canals all eventually end up in the Gulf of Mexico, so it is important to start at the origin of pollution.

Millions will be spent on this program by Uncle Sam, just as they did several years ago in efforts to clean up the Great Lakes up North.

It appears there should be a move about to have central sewerage throughout the wetlands areas.

If one looks at it realistically from the information I have received, Hancock County could have hundreds of residences and camps on a 'condemned list.'

It will be interesting to see what happens in the future.

Voter registrations are important for those who may be a newcomer, or never took the time to do so previously.

The General Election to elect a President and Vice-President, United State Representative, State Senator, State Representatives, Election Commissioners, County School Board Members and Special Elections will be held on Tuesday, November 3, 1992.

These are very important political positions, and everyone really needs to be able to vote.

Persons can register in person at the Circuit Clerk's office or with the registrar of voters at the respective city halls.

I urge everyone to make sure they are registered to vote, and be sure to vote on every issue. Yes, every vote does count.

For further information call the Hancock County Circuit Clerk's office at 467-5265.

When a political entity talks about taxes, it is usually about the necessity of raising rather than lowering them.

Bay St. Louis has to be one of the very few cities in America where property taxes are being reduced by a considerable sum.

What the new tax cuts means is a 20% drop in overall taxes paid by city residents and business owners in Bay St. Louis.

There will also be a reduction in the cost of auto tags, and that is really needed.

The main reason for the reduction is the gaming monies to be received from Casino Magic, as well as some very good city management of funds.

These cuts in taxes also come with the addition of 13 staff members, purchase of equipment needed in several departments, double the amount of the current repaving project, purchase of a new city hall building (Peoples Federal Savings Bank Building on Court Street), and many other things.

I do not know of any other city with such a tax reduction and increases in services.

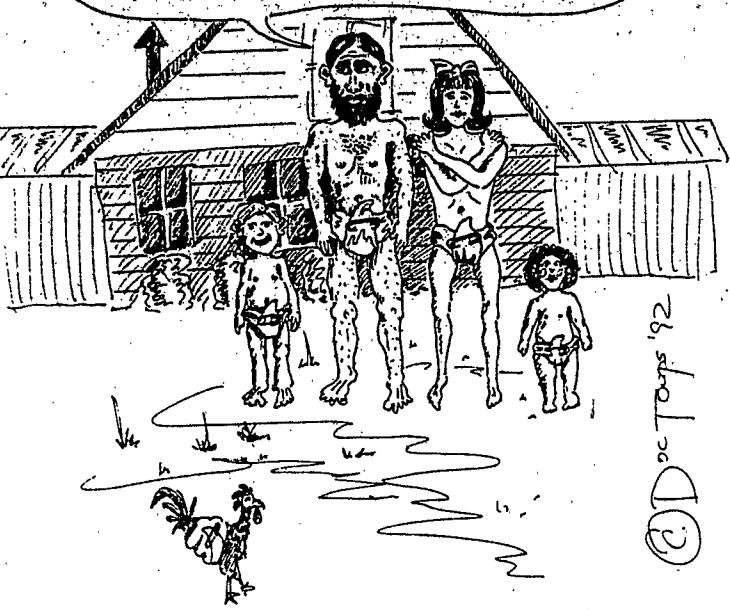

Hats off to the Bay St. Louis administration.

Waveland shuts out voice of the people

Dear Editor,

Stella! Stella! Stella!

Believe me, that's not the voice of Marlon Brando crying out his love for the Mayor of Waveland—no, it's the cry of citizens who can't believe what they hear from Stella!

For example, at the board meeting on Wednesday, she said words to the effect that her administration should be congratulated for ending the fiscal year about $500,000 below our proposed budget.

In the next breath she asked the board for hundreds of thousands more for next year than was originally budgeted. We wanted to know why she needed more money, BUT could NOT receive an answer.

She also wants to begin collecting up to $7.50 per month as a garbage collection fee.

This is so inconsistent. While discussing the Ladner pier operation, which loses $37,000 every year, Mayor Frilot said basically, she didn't want the usage fee to be high, as some poor people could not afford more than the present $1 per month or they'd be denied use of the pier.

Hey, Mayor, how are those poor people going to pay the garbage collection fee of $7.50 per month?

Perhaps worse than all this, Mayor Frilot denied the public any voice on the budget, and with the help of three board people: #1 Monkey No See, #2 Monkey No Say and #3 Monkey No Do ratified her new 40 percent higher administrative budget with only Mr. Weidman dissenting—even refusing to justify the request for more money—and with a room full of citizens wanting to have their say, she adjourned the meeting with the consent of those same three aldermen.

Though Mrs. Frilot is very pleasant to talk with as an individual, acting as mayor she becomes adamant, arrogant and caustic. These board meetings are conducted in a most unprofessional manner.

Wednesday's meeting was supposed to be an open meeting; yet, for all the public input she allowed (none) it could have been behind closed doors in an empty hall rather than to a SRO crowd.

Is this any way to run a city?

Credit, collection seminar offered for small business

A seminar titled "Credit and Collection Strategies for Small Businesses" is being presented on Tuesday, Sept. 29 from 8 a.m.-noon at the Gulf Coast Business Technology Center on Popp's Ferry Road in Biloxi.

Presenters include William Lee Guice III, attorney-at-law with Rushing & Guice; Clint Burchfield of Consumers Collection Inc. and Ed O'Neil of the District Attorney's Worthless Check Division.

The following areas will be covered:

- Establishing a credit and collection policy
- Customer information that makes or breaks the collection process
- How to identify when a receivable becomes a problem
- How to collect debts in small claims court
- How to reduce receivables
- When to bring in outside help
- How to select a third party collector
- Bankruptcy actions and
- How to collect payment on bad checks

The seminar is free and a continental breakfast will be served beginning at 8 a.m. Registration is necessary to assure an adequate number of materials. Call 392-9741 to reserve a space.

The seminar is sponsored by the Gulf Coast Business Technology Center, Mississippi State University Cooperative Extension Service and the Greater Biloxi Economic Development Foundation.

SBA disaster loans offered in Hancock

Seven Mississippi counties hit by Hurricane Andrew are now eligible for U.S. Small Business Administration disaster loan assistance, according to the state's U.S. senators.

U.S. Senators Trent Lott and Thad Cochran said small businesses can apply for Economic Injury Disaster Loans if they have suffered a substantial loss of income as a result of Andrew.

"These loans will help small businesses to recover from undue economic loss that resulted from Andrew," Lott said. "Affected businesses in Amite, Hancock, Marion, Pearl River, Pike, Walthall and Wilkinson counties are eligible for assistance."

Loans are available for up to $500,000 of actual disaster-related financial needs of the businesses. The interest rate for a loan is 4 percent.

Mississippians wishing to apply can call SBA for more information toll-free at 1-800-368-6303 or TDD 817/267-4688, for the hearing impaired. The deadline for filing a loan application with SBA is May 26, 1993.

Veterans' service members' burial arrangements discussed

By Donald Mauffray, VSO

Q. My husband served on a destroyer in the South Pacific in World War II and wants to be buried in a national cemetery. He has often said that he would like to have military honors at the ceremony. Is he eligible for burial in a national cemetery, and will the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) provide military honors?

A. Veterans discharged or separated from active duty under conditions other than dishonorable who have completed the required period of service, as well as those who die on active duty, are eligible for burial in one of VA's 114 national cemeteries. Spouses and dependent children of eligible living and deceased veterans and of current and deceased armed forces members also may be buried in a national cemetery. VA does NOT provide military honors. The director of the cemetery, however, can assist the family in contacting the appropriate military command. Only the military commander can determine whether military personnel will be available to provide honors.

Q. I thought that the VA once reimbursed families for headstones if they decided not to use a government-provided headstone. Does VA still do this?

A. VA no longer pays the headstone or marker allowance paid in lieu of a government-provided headstone or marker. VA still provides headstones and markers for the graves of veterans and eligible dependents. Flat bronze, flat granite, flat marble and upright marble types are available in the style consistent with existing monuments at the place of burial. When a burial occurs in a cemetery other than a national cemetery, the headstone or marker must be applied for separately. It is shipped at government expense, but VA does not pay for the cost of placing the headstone or marker on the grave.

Q. Would I be able to reserve space in the national cemetery of my choice?

A. No. Gravesites in national cemeteries cannot be reserved. Funeral directors or others making burial arrangements must apply at the time of the veteran's or service member's death.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi
Economic Council

Giving help, giving thanks

"We appreciate everything your state did for us and hope to return the favor someday."

This was the closing line of a card from a Louisiana family following the tragedy of Hurricane Andrew, thanking the State of Mississippi for its hospitality during the evacuation out of the storm's path.

The family had fled the New Orleans area as the hurricane surged toward the Louisiana coastline. The storm forced thousands of people along the Gulf Coast to seek shelter further inland. Hotels and shelters were filled to capacity.

Mississippians from around the state rallied to help provide food and shelter for both the evacuees and the victims. Assistance was given unselfishly, and in the basic human spirit that calls on us to help others in time of need.

The people of Mississippi—indeed, people across the country—stepped forward to help the victims of nature's destruction, and did so with the memory that they, too, had been victims at one time or another.

Disaster, whether man-made or natural, tends to bring people together. It provides a common bond which transcends all other barriers of race or economic status. It helps to bring out the good in us all.

People have returned home now, to the task of rebuilding their homes and their businesses. It will be a long and difficult process, a process deeply imbedded in Mississippi's collective mind following the tragedy of Hurricane Camille.

Giving help, giving thanks—these are perhaps the two most common exercises following a catastrophe such as Hurricane Andrew.

And to the family in Louisiana—hey, that's what neighbors are for.

Anti-litter hotlines set up in Bay, county

Hotlines have been implemented for people in Bay St. Louis and outside the city limits to call if they see someone toss trash out of a vehicle.

If you see someone do this, memorize or write down the vehicle's license number and call the appropriate hotline number. A recording will instruct you as to how to report the violation.

After the vehicle registration is traced, a letter will be sent by the appropriate authority to the vehicle owner. The letter does not accuse the vehicle owner of throwing the trash, but states that an occupant of a vehicle which is or was owned by that person was seen throwing trash out of the vehicle. The letter states that no charges are being filed at the time the letter is issued, but also reminds the person that littering is illegal and carries a $250 fine.

The numbers to call are 255-6234 for a violation witnessed in Bay St. Louis, and 255-6246 for one witnessed in the county.

County board holds hiring of transportation director

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Hancock County school board decided in a recess meeting Monday to wait before voting whether or not to hire Carolyn Netaise as transportation director for the district.

The recommendation to hire Netaise, a transportation department employee for several years, came after county superintendent Myrna Bourgeois fired the district's newly hired transportation director last week, citing dissatisfaction with job performance and bus route complaints from parents as reasons for the action.

Kenneth Kothmann was hired by the board in June upon recommendation of a three-member committee and the superintendent. Kothmann is a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, former chief of operations plans for technical aircraft at Keesler Air Force Base, and a Waveland resident.

Board president Frank Miller said he preferred to hold the matter until the next meeting, explaining that he thought Kothmann still had a few days left in which to request a hearing before the board.

GRANTS

The school board authorized the district's annual Chapter II grant application for $21,022, and an application for a Drug Free Schools grant of $20,639.

The Chapter II grant will allow the district to continue the German classes currently taught by television via satellite hookup; add a new community education component that will offer educational and recreational courses for the public; and start an after school care program.

The Drug Free School grant will enable the district to focus on curriculum and support materials for a drug and alcohol abuse prevention program; give in-school support for the Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) organization and the annual anti-drug red ribbon campaign; and hire a coordinator for school- and community-based activities promoting drug abuse awareness.

District Federal Programs director Gaynell Roberts said the state encourages parent involvement in keeping the public schools drug-free, and the coordinator will be able to solicit that involvement.

PRAYER VIGIL

A number of Hancock school students and their parents asked the board to allow the students to participate Wednesday morning in a local See You at the Pole prayer gathering. They explained that the nationwide event, which has been held for several years now, is a voluntary gathering before school at the school's flagpole to pray for the schools, their administrators and the nation in general.

After some discussion, the board decided that the gathering would be permissible, even though the board did not take official action. Board member Kay Sones pointed out that the school board couldn't legally prohibit the prayer rally, since it was student-initiated and occurred during noninstructional (nonclass) time.

The only request the board made was that volunteer adult supervision be provided to ensure that the gathering was organized.

The students and their parents also requested permission to start a Bible club which would meet during lunch and after school, as do other campus extracurricular organizations.

The board asked those making the request to formulate some club guidelines for the board to review before they made any decisions.

All the board members expressed willingness to allow the club to be started, but explained that they had to treat a Bible club like any other, which meant they needed to see some guidelines enacted and enforced.

The students and parents agreed to the request and thanked the board for its time and cooperation.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board set a student hearing for a bus expulsion; approved the hiring of Sandra Moran as a substitute teacher at Hancock High School for the rest of the school year; accepted a donation from GE Plastics of two microfiche machines and five color terminals, and discussed cleaning and repair costs for the machines; accepted a student transfer into the district; authorized advertisement for two ice machines for the food service department; approved the free and reduced meal policy; and approved the travel agenda.

The board voted to recess to September 23, 5 p.m., at the central office, when the student hearing will be held.

Casino Magic to open Sept. 30

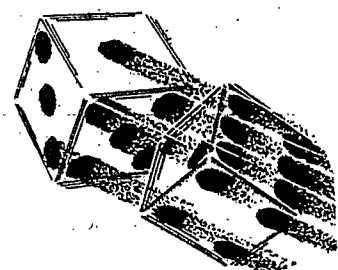

Casino Magic has set an opening date of September 30 for its Bay Cove marina dockside gambling vessel.

Activities at the site this week included installing slot machines; finishing the interior decorating of the casino; and completing the paving of the entrance road and construction on the casino and parking areas. The casino held a graduation Friday at the Waveland Resort Inn for the 200 students in its eight-week training school.

Assistant Human Resources Director Pat Kennedy said the casino has hired some 800 workers and is still hiring. She estimated that 75 to 80 percent of the workers are from Hancock County.

September 30 will see the opening of the casino's first floor to the public a few hours after a 5 p.m. reception for local officials and community leaders. Developer Marlin Torguson said the second floor will probably open in November.

By mid-October, Casino Magic officials plan to be able to offer its visitors dining aboard a 100-foot boat being brought from New York, where Biloxi native Francis Pavlov has been running a cruising dinner boat. During a six-month contract with Casino Magic, Pavlov will offer breakfast, lunch and supper.

Other plans for the destination resort include a recreational vehicle park, a 10-story hotel and a golf course.

Torguson said Casino Magic Vacations, Inc., a Chicago-based air-package marketing company that has been promoting the resort at Bay Cove, has already secured contracts with charter companies, which will probably start bringing in visitors in November.

Sewerage

stated it will not target existing systems which received department approval prior to enactment of the July law. Existing systems for which a complaint or request is filed will be checked by health officials.

A department memo, sent Friday from Lydia Strayer, director of the health department's sanitation division, also stated:

—installers will not be fined or lose their licenses if they install systems that the health department has not recommended but which the homeowner wants, as long as the system is installed properly;

—and, the health department will allow systems that do not meet the new law to be installed until July 1, 1994, if the health department gave preliminary approval before July 1.

The health department has formally advised realtors to disclose all information known about a particular piece of property before sale.

Harrison and Jackson counties' building codes require health department approval of wastewater systems prior to allowance for electrical hookup. Hancock does not.

Rep. J.P. Compretta said he will try to get legislation passed in January to allow a moratorium on the law until a central sewer system can be expanded in Hancock County.

On September 8, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors requested letters to be sent to all congressional leaders asking for guidance in funding an encompassing sewerage system for the southern areas of the county.

The Waveland Wastewater Treatment District, which serves the cities of Waveland, Bay St. Louis and a portion of Shoreline Park, east of Highway 603, was reported by district administrator Ethel Schott, "at capacity with the anticipated flow from the gambling facility at Bayou Caddy."

Schott added, "Also at this time, the district is conducting a study on an expansion to the plant, which will be completed in two to three months."

"Of course, if the district chooses to expand the plant, it will be a couple of years before completion."

Since passage of this law, Louisiana now remains the only state left, allowing discharge of waste water from home treatment plants and septic systems off a homeowner's property.

La. Swamp Fest

Family fun offered at the Audubon Zoo

Louisiana's Cajun heritage will be celebrated swamp style at the Audubon Zoo's seventh annual Louisiana Swamp Festival October 3 and 4 and 10 and 11, spotlighting the food, music and crafts of bayou country.

The two toe-tapping weekends will give visitors a taste of Cajun and Zydeco music with headliners such as Terrence Simien, Rockin' Dopsie, Evangeline and Beausoleil. If you love to two-step (or wish you knew how), the Louisiana Swamp Festival features music on three stages throughout the Zoo and Cajun dance lessons in the award-winning Louisiana Swamp Exhibit and at Monkey Hill.

Bobcats, felines indigenous to Louisiana's swampland, make their debut at the festival. Visitors will see these compelling creatures in a new enclosure in the Louisiana Swamp Exhibit.

Special hands-on activities and animal feedings are featured during Swamp Fest weekends amid snakes, bears, nutria and the world's only white alligators.

Louisiana Swamp Festival activities are free with admission to the Audubon Zoo, which is $7 for adults and $3.25 for children under 12 and seniors over 65.

Greek Night marks 25th anniversary

Greek Night on Saturday, Oct. 3, will celebrate its 25th anniversary.

"An evening of fun, food, entertainment and fellowship will be shared by all," stated Red Boro of Long Beach, and George Vapouris of Ocean Springs, this year's co-chairmen.

For entertainment, a dance group from the Pensacola and Fort Walton, Fla. areas will display unique steps and dances from various regions of Greece,

Bird identification workshops scheduled

Four bird identification workshops of classroom sessions and field trips for birders and would-be birders are scheduled later this month.

Judith Toups, birding columnist for the Sun Herald, author, and field ornithologist with the Mississippi Museum of Natural Science, is offering the sessions to benefit the Mississippi Coast Audubon Society and to help others discover the joy of birdwatching.

Each will consist of two arts: a classroom session on Thursday evening and a Saturday morning field trip.

Topics and dates for the workshops are:

Fall Warblers, Sept. 24 and 26

Ducks, Nov. 11 and 13

Gulls and Terns, Dec. 3 and 5; and Sparrows, Jan. 14 and 16.

Classroom sessions will be held at the Methodist Assembly, Casey Hall, U.S. 90, Biloxi from 7 to 9 p.m. Locations of the Saturday morning field trips will be announced at the class sessions.

Individual workshops will cost $30, a $15 non-refundable deposit is payable with registration and a balance of $15 is payable at the evening class.

This year save $20 by registering for all four workshops. The $50 non-refundable deposit and $12.50 per workshop will cover the fee.

Bring a notebook, pen or pencil, binoculars and a field guide to Birds of North America, either Golden Guide by Chandler Robins, or National Geographic Guide.

Early registration is requested as each session will have a limited number of participants.

Registration may be made by writing Janet Miller, 2804 Dubarry Dr. Apt. 1207, Gautier, MS 39553, or by calling 497-4029.

Story hour titles told

"Wolves" will be the theme for this week's children's story hour at the City-County Public Library, Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis.

The True Story of the Three Little Pigs and Beware of Boys are the books to be featured on Wednesday, Sept. 23 at 10:30 a.m. at the City-County Public Library.

Children will receive a coloring sheet, will have an exercise activity and will see the movie, "Little Red Riding Hood."

"Birthdays" will be theme Friday, Sept. 25 at 10:30 a.m. at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue.

The Birthday Wish and A Birthday Present for Mama are books to be read. There will be two finger plays, a flannel board story and children will be making party hats.

Weekly story hours are held at the City-County Public Library and the Waveland Library from September through May. Programs last approximately one hour, depending upon subject matter and planned activity.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school-age children three to five years old who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group.

Further information is available by calling Sandra Ladner at the City-County Library at 467-5282, or Karen Peoples at the Waveland Library at 467-9240.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON - A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Although other studies and scientists may not agree, researchers in Europe found that the ingredient, a natural plant colloid, actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the project of National Dietary Research, aptly named Food Source One, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the formula which has since been improved with other natural colloids, has been a windfall for some overweight people.

A Metairie, Louisiana nurse lost 71 pounds. She stated "I never had to sacrifice the foods I dearly crave!"

"Food Source One is very easy and anyone could do it," says a Niagara Falls, New York woman who lost 26 pounds and 15 inches. "The results are great," she added.

Food Source One tablets are part of National Dietary Research's comprehensive plan to bring a rapid end to obesity in this country. A variety of nutritionally sound diet plans, specially prepared by NDR, accompany each bottle and provide a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

Harrison-Hancock Legal Secretaries

The Harrison-Hancock Legal Secretaries Association held its monthly meeting Thursday, Sept. 10 at the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport.

Guest speaker was Susan B. Pearson, vice-president of Industrial Division, GulfCoast Physical Therapy Group, P.A. in Gulfport. Pearson spoke on the prevention of cumulative trauma/carpal tunnel syndrome.

Meetings are on the second Thursday of each month at 5:30 p.m. at the Gulfport Courthouse, second floor, Chancery Court No. 1. The Association features a different speaker and topic each month and welcomes all guests.

Information on membership can be obtained by contacting Cheryl Crayden at 863-6101.

Gulf Coast Writers Association

The Gulf Coast Writers Association's highlight at the September 24 meeting will be readings and critiques. This meeting was scheduled last month, and was cancelled because of Hurricane Andrew. It will be held at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the William Carey College campus, 1856 Beach Blvd., Gulfport.

After short business meeting, the group will break up into smaller units of 3-4 people to read and critique each other's work. Don't be shy about your work; bring what you have at the moment to share and listen. Non-members are welcome to join in and bring their work.

The GCWA has a regular meeting the fourth Thursday of every month at the campus auditorium. The group fosters creative writing, both non-fiction and fiction, along the Coast by sponsoring meetings, seminars and workshops throughout the year.

Anyone needing more information about the group or its programs may call Norma Brown, secretary, 388-1409, or Suzanne Smith, vice-president, 467-3573.

Democratic fund-raiser

The Hancock County Democratic executive committee is planning a political rally and fund-raiser, Beans & Greens, October 3 at the county civic center from noon until 4 p.m. Special guests include Congressmen Mike Espy and Gene Taylor, Secretary of State Dick Molpus, former Gov. William Winter, State Treasurer Marshall Bennett and various local elected officials. Red beans and rice plates will be served for $5. Entertainment by Keith Hoda. Co-hosts are the State Democratic Party and Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River County organizations. Seated from left are executive committee members Geraldine Lang, vice-chairman; Keith Mitchell, secretary; and Geraldine Watson, treasurer; standing, Ruth R. Davis, Andrew Mazerat, all of Bay St. Louis, and Dewey Hoda and Aline Hoda of Kiln. Mike Benvenuti, 467-0570, and Lang, 467-9586, are co-chairmen. (Photo by Janet McQueen)

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The monthly meeting of the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 was Monday, Sept. 14. President Susan Piazza opened the meeting and (pro tem) chaplain Shirley Clemons read the opening prayers. Color-bearers Roslyn Weathers and Hazel Wohlschlegel advanced the colors and Piazza asked for a moment of silent prayer for ailing and deceased members.

Secretary Jeannette Ladner read the minutes and treasurer Bobby Tomlinson gave a report.

Various committees reported their activities during the month.

Membership—Mattie North reported the unit is nearing its goal and asked members for their cooperation.

Second vice president Shirley Clemons said all is ready for the bñco party on Wednesday, Sept. 23, and urged members to attend.

Community service Roslyn Weathers reported taking clothes to the VA hospital in Gulfport, and taking women's and children's clothes to the Women's Shelter.

State president Lou Wilkerson, who is also a member of Unit 139 spoke on workshops scheduled for the month of October. Anyone interested in attending these activities may contact Piazza.

Constitution and by-laws chairman Margaret Prevou spoke on a few items needed to be corrected. She expects to have enough copies made for the members in the near future.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

NAACP to meet

The Hancock County Chapter of the NAACP will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday, Sept. 21, at Valena O. Jones United Methodist Church in the school hall.

The public is invited to attend.

20th Star Chapter DAR

The September meeting of the 20th Star Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held in the home of Mrs. Edwin Harris in Hattiesburg. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Paul Crowson and Mrs. Doug McClelland.

Mrs. Philip Davenport of Bay St. Louis gave the National Defense report concerning the need for stronger border patrols to stem the tide of illegal aliens entering the United States.

Mrs. Robert Turner, regent, gave a brief summary of the Coastal Plains District Workshop. The 20th Star Chapter received the Gold Honor Roll certificate at the workshop. Eleven members attended the meeting.

Mrs. Keith Waters presented a slide program entitled 'Discover Columbus in America.' The members were told of a memorial to Columbus that is on the estate of the Boal family in Boalsburg, Penn.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Timothy Phalen on Oct. 10. The chapter will celebrate its 25th anniversary and the guest speaker will be Mrs. Betty Holmes, Coastal Plains director.

Sierra Club

Dr. Bill Cibula is a research biologist with NASA at Stennis Space Center whose specialty is mycology, the study of fungi.

Mushrooms, of course, are one fungus everyone knows something about. Research on fungi can be done by remote sensing from airplanes or from space satellites, and that is what Dr. Cibula is noted for. His remote sensing projects include those scattered world-wide as well as projects only a few miles north of Gulfport. His program and lecture will include an interesting slide presentation.

The public is invited to this free presentation held at the Marine Education Center (located south of U.S. 90 at the west end of the Biloxi-Ocean Springs bridge).

The program begins at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 24. For more information, call 435-2623.

Annunciation Senior Citizens

The senior citizens of Annunciation Parish held their monthly covered dish luncheon Wednesday, Sept. 16 with 26 members present. A buffet, desserts and soft drinks were served.

Celebrating birthdays for the month of September were Lorraine Graft, Aline Hoda and Estelle Depreo.

Plans were made for a trip to Alabama via Coastliner for October 28.

October 21 will be the next luncheon at the VFW Hall in Kiln. Call the rectory, 255-1800, or Estelle Depreo for information. All senior citizens of the community are welcome.

Riverview Club

The September meeting of Riverview Club was at the home of Joan Little with 12 members present. The meeting was called to order by Delores Bullitt, president.

Clyde Richardson read the educational notes, entitled, "Pennies for Friendship." It described the international group called "Associated Country Women of the World." In this global report, the chairman told how pennies collected by the group helped to eliminate poverty. Good drinking water and improved food production are stressed.

A collection was taken for the Food Pantry, the club's project for the year. Several had brought canned food to the meeting. Kay Buccola reported several pairs of eye glasses had been collected. The nominating committee for new members was appointed as follows: Joan Little, Kay Buccola and Clyde Richardson.

The October meeting will be a field trip to the Outlet in Slidell. The November meeting will be at the home of Clyde Richardson. Kay Buccola will give a workshop on quilting.

Hancock County Historical Society

The Hancock County Historical Society will present an address by the highly acclaimed author and scholar Stephen E. Ambrose this Sunday evening, Sept. 20 at the Waveland Resort Inn.

Ambrose's numerous works are all noted for their thorough research and accuracy of detail. He has written several books on various aspects of World War II as well as biographies of Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon.

Admission is free and the public is invited to enjoy this rare opportunity to hear a speaker of such magnitude in our city. The meeting will begin at 4 p.m. followed by dinner (optional) at 5. The menu offered will be salad, pork tenderloin with hot mustard sauce, potatoes au gratin, vegetable and dessert for $7. For dinner reservations, call 467-8201.

Hawks shut out Bearcats 18-0

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Hancock Hawks crashed the Long Beach Bearcats' party Friday night at Lance Lumpkin stadium with an 18-0 win over the hosting 'Cats.

Hawks Lance Wedgeworth and Dennis Malley led the running attack, along with James Prive. Although plagued by penalties, the Hawks played a solid game both defensively and offensively.

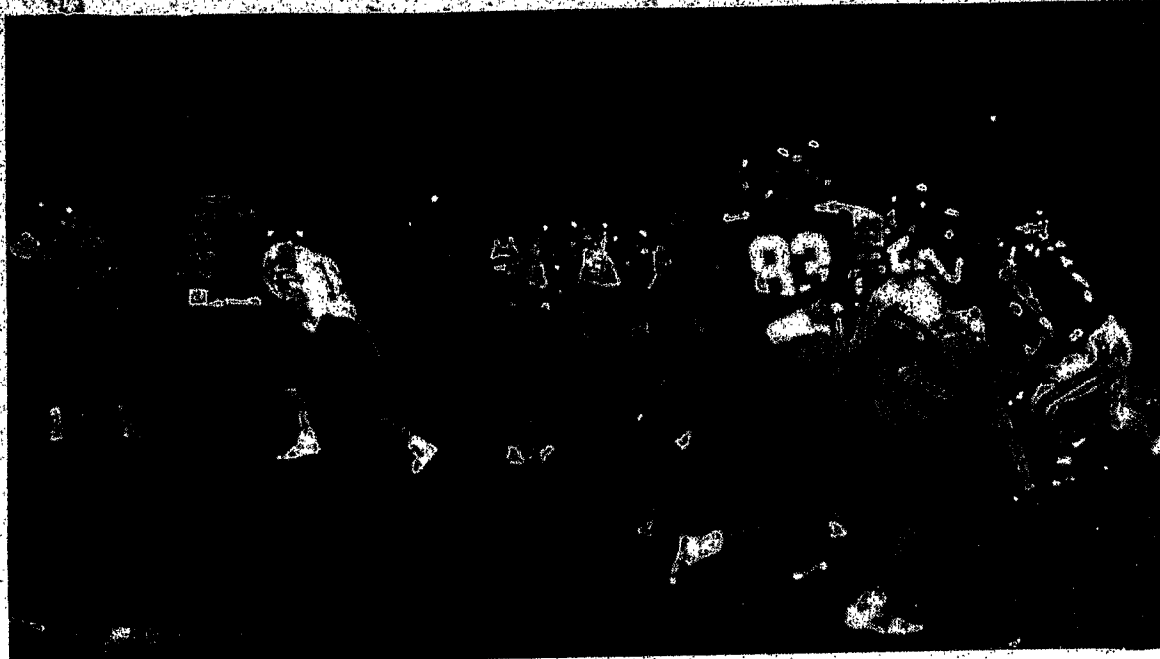

The first quarter ended with a blank scoreboard, although the Hawks did threaten to put up 6 points with a touchdown pass late in the quarter. A Bearcat block thwarted the attempt and put the ball into Long Beach's hands.

The Hawks held the Bearcats at bay near their own end zone for several plays, until 'Cat Avery Taylor took a pass reception up to the 26. Chris Reinike nudged the ball to the 31 to end the quarter.

In the early minutes of the second quarter, the Bearcats pushed into Hawk territory, but fumbled at the 29-yard line. Hancock recovered and quickly moved the ball back into Bearcat territory.

After three plays and a gain of about 10 yards, the Hawks incurred a 15-yard penalty at the Bearcat 43.

They took flight on the next play, though, with a 54-yard pass that Wedgeworth received in the middle of Bearcat territory and ran in for the night's first touchdown. The PAT attempt for 2 was no good, leaving the score at 6-0 with 5:19 still to go in the first half.

In the gap

Dusty Anderson (#68) blocks for ball carrier Lance Wedgeworth during Hancock's 18-0 win against the Long Beach Bearcats at Lance Lumpkin Stadium.

On the following kick, Bearcat Arno Breland took the ball to the 12. A 5-yard Hawk penalty moved it to the 17, but the Hawks backed the 'Cats to the 12 again on the next play.

The Bearcats combined running and pass attempts to move to their own 47, but lost the ball on a Hawk interception by Joe Green, who went down at the 38-yard line.

The Hawks repeatedly tried to move the ball over the Bearcats' heads, but the first three pass attempts were incomplete and the fourth was intercepted by Long Beach's Avery Taylor to end the half.

The second half started with the Bearcats in possession of the ball. They threatened to score after an eight-play drive that started at their own 40 and ended at the Hawk 21, but the next play, a 5-yard gain to the 16, didn't net the 'Cats the yardage they needed for a first down.

The Hawks took possession and forced the ball to the 18, the 24, 30, 34, 38 and 40, then just into Bearcat territory with a pass to Prive, who was downed at the 47. Another play ate up 2 more yards, then a pass attempt was made and failed.

The next pass didn't, however. Wedgeworth received and took the ball to the 10 to make it first and goal for the Hawks.

Malley gained 4 more yards on the next play, then 2 more. Wedgeworth pushed the ball to the 2-yard line, then spectators and teams were held in suspense briefly while the teams moved to the other end of the field to start the fourth quarter.

The suspense didn't last long, though. The teams lined up, Wedgeworth got the ball, and it was another Hawk TD. The play took four seconds off the clock.

The Hawks' second 2-point PAT attempt failed, leaving the score 12-0 with 11:56 left on the game.

After the kick, the Bearcats took the ball from their 15 to the 41 on a 10-play drive, but turned the ball over to the Hawks, who moved it from mid-field to the 3-yard line on eight running plays by Malley and Wedgeworth.

Malley took the ball into the end zone for the Hawks' third and final touchdown, with only 38 seconds left on the clock. The PAT, a 1-point kick, was good, but a penalty forced the Hawks to repeat the attempt, which was stopped the second time.

The Bearcats had no hope of winning, although 'Cat Jason McGill made a spectacular effort to score after receiving the kick. He ran the ball to the 43 and would have kept going, had not two Hawks swooped in to stop him.

Two incomplete Long Beach pass attempts and a run stopped by the Hawks ran out the clock.

Coach Irvin Favre was understandably pleased with the efforts of the 2-1 Hawks.

"We played well. We made a lot of mistakes, but we stayed in the game all the way.

"At half time, we went into the locker room and talked to the boys about the penalties that had been called and how to avoid making them again. We talked and made some adjustments, and it all paid off.

"Now we need to regroup and work out for our next game, our first district game at home against St. Martin. It'll be a tough game; all the games are tough.

"But we have what it takes to make it."

The matchup with the 3-1 Yellow Jackets kicks off at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Hawk stadium.

Yellow Jackets sting Rock-A-Chaws

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

It was an added homecoming celebration for the St. Martin Yellow Jackets, as they defeated the winless St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws, 34-15, Friday night.

It was the first District VIII 4-A tilt for the Yellow Jackets and Rocks.

Highlights of the game for the Rocks were a quarterback keeper by Jeffrey Bishop for a 9-yard score in the third quarter, and a lateral TD to Brandon Benoit in the fourth, who plowed through heavy traffic and broke loose for a 51-yard score.

Stanislaus' initial score came in the first quarter on a 30-yard field goal by Allen Schafer.

After St. Martin made its first score, and following an SSC punt, the Rocks got a break on a fumble recovery by Bryce Gex.

Unable to capitalize on that recovery, SSC took advantage on the next break. Forced to punt, they obtained possession of the ball, this time, after it was touched by a Jacket, recovering it on St. Martin's 21-yard line.

The Rocks moved to the 9-yard line and bogged down. Schafer kicked a field goal with 40 seconds left in the first quarter, placing SSC on the board, 6-3, with St. Martin still in the lead.

St. Martin's Tito Galloway crushed the Rocks with three first half touchdowns. The running back appeared to be unstoppable.

At the end of the game, Rock head coach Ken Lyons said, "St.

Martin has a good team and the coach has done a good job. We got our offense moving several times, but we shot ourselves in the foot once again.

"If we can correct the mistakes, to repeat myself, we can start winning some games."

The workhorse for Stanislaus was Benoit, who racked up some 140 yards on 21 carries.

Lyons felt that Bishop, Benoit, and Stanley Chapman had a good offensive game, and added that fullback Kris Minchew did a fine job blocking. Lyons said, "The offensive line was a little sporadic, but when they did execute, they did it well.

"We had a lot of bright spots, defensively we sparked at times, but we broke down, just like on offense and yet we have made some progress," he commented.

Several possessions in the game saw Stanislaus executing well and moving the ball for first downs, before being stopped by a mistake or running out of downs.

Four turnovers, two fumbles and pass interceptions by St. Martin and some 128 yards of penalties hurt the Rock-A-Chaws.

Stanislaus moved for 14 first downs to St. Martin's 17; Stanislaus recovered four Jacket fumbles; the Rocks gained 123 yards passing to St. Martin's 35, while St. Martin outdistanced the Rocks 293 to 163 yards on the ground.

Next week the 0-3 Rock-A-Chaws will be away from home, and it will be a conference tilt against East Central.

Tigers claw Aggies, 13-12

BY RANDY PONDER
Gerrit Carver blocked an extra point attempt that would have tied the game in the fourth quarter as the Bay High Tigers held on to a 13-12 victory over the home-standing Forrest County Aggies Friday night in Brooklyn.

"I've been on this field several times in my career with good Hancock teams and this is the first time to win," a jubilant Tiger coach Rocky Gaudin said after the game.

The contest got off to a shaky start. Forrest County fumbled the ball away on their first play. BH's Jeff Hopgood made the recovery on the Aggie 28.

Bay High quickly returned the favor, also fumbling on their first play, giving the ball back to the Aggies at the 30. Forrest County ran three plays and fumbled again. The ever present Tiger defensive standout Hopgood pounced on the loose ball for his second fumble recovery in the first two minutes of the contest.

The Tigers were unable to move and Hopgood punted the ball back to the Aggies at their 15.

After picking up a first down out to their 30, the Forrest County drive stalled. Tristian Robertson almost intercepted a pass that he probably could have returned for a touchdown. A running play went for no gain. Then on third down, Jimmy Strong broke through the line and sacked the quarterback for a big 13 yard loss.

Following a penalty on their first attempt, the Aggies were forced to punt from their endzone giving the Tigers great field position at the Forrest County 30.

Bay High wasted little time capitalizing on the opportunity. Two handoffs netted nine yards. Quick footed Larrone Lewis then took the ball, broke several tackles and crashed down to the four, setting up first and goal.

Another run was stopped for no gain, before Lewis collected the points with a four yard burst to the right behind a strong push from the entire offensive line. Shawn Keener split the uprights for the extra point and the rejuvenated Tigers jumped on top 7-0 with 1:45 left in the opening quarter.

After an exchange of kicks, Forrest County intercepted a Bay High pass at the Tiger 37 and mounted a seven play drive for their first score. Brian Ford scored the TD when he fell over the goal line as he was being tackled by a swarm of Tiger defenders on a third and goal play from the two. The PAT was blocked, leaving Bay High clinging to a 7-6 advantage with 6:25 left in the half.

The ensuing Tiger possession ended in a fumble at the Forrest 32, but the Aggies were unable to move and punted the ball back to Bay High.

With the ball at their own 42 and 2:35 remaining on the second period clock, the Tigers went to work. Three runs advanced the ball to the Forrest 48.

In a play that stunned the Aggie defenders, quarterback Sam Sheppard passed the ball to Marcel Whavers near the 35. Whavers lateraled the ball to Xavier Lewis and with lightning quickness charged down the right side lines all the way to the endzone.

A two point conversion attempt was no good, but Bay High had increased the lead to 13-6 as the first half ended.

In the third quarter, the Tigers drove to the Aggie 12 before turning the ball over on downs. Bay High almost made a first down, but the officials did not measure and gave the ball to the Aggies.

Forrest County took over deep in their own territory and started the longest drive of the contest, filled with big plays and controversy.

Two runs moved the ball to the 29 before a long pass advanced the Aggies to the Tiger 42. Another pass play reached the Bay High 16.

The Tigers tried to dig in. Hopgood made a big tackle in the backfield for a six yard loss. On the next play, Bay High was penalized for being offside, moving the ball up five yards.

A long pass to the goal line was just off the intended receiver's finger tips. Jimmy Strong then sacked the quarterback for a loss to bring up fourth and 27. Following a time out, The Aggies attempted another pass which fell incomplete.

But hold everything, there was a penalty on the play. The Tigers were guilty of pass interference and also defensive holding. Both infractions were marked off against Bay High. Fifteen yards for interference and five yards and a very big first down for holding.

With new life at the Tiger 16, Forrest County scored two plays later on a pass to Timmy Salde.

The Aggies lined up for a two point try but took too long to get the play off, drawing a flag for delay of game and a five yard penalty. This turned out to be a major mistake, forcing Forrest County to try a kick to tie the game instead of going for two and the lead.

Carver blocked the kick to preserve the Tiger advantage.

After an exchange of punts, Bay High had the ball on their own 24. Leroy Hawkins made a big run up the middle of the field for 20 yards. Larrone Lewis is followed with a 38 yard run, cutting left, breaking open and racing all the way to the Aggie 18. The drive stalled here and with 4:54 left in the contest, the Tigers tried a long 37 yard field goal which sailed just left of the mark.

Forrest County could not advance the ball and punted it back to Bay High. The Tigers ran the clock out to win their third consecutive game. It was their first conference game.

"We won. It was the kind of game that would have been easy for us to blow, but we didn't," Gaudin stated. "They make you work for anything you get. They are tough at home."

A large number of very vocal students and fans made the long trip to Brooklyn. "We really appreciate the crowd support. We need every advantage we can get to win on the road and they helped," Gaudin said.

The 3-0 Tigers will host East Marion next week at Joe D. McCullough Stadium in Bay St Louis in another conference matchup. Kick-off is slated for 7:30pm.

Food Fest

Specialties from around the world
featured at OLA's annual fund-raiser

Our Lady Academy will hold its tenth annual Food Fest on the beachfront property adjoining Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis Oct. 2-4.

This year's festival kicks off at 5:30 p.m. with a fish fry on Friday, Oct. 2. The cost of dinner is $5. Take-outs will be available.

The festival opens at noon Saturday and Sunday. It will close Saturday at 11 p.m. and on Sunday at 6 p.m. The major highlights of these two days include a wide variety of the world's foods, including seafood, Oriental, Greek, Mexican, Italian, Western and Cajun; games and special food for the children; and continuous musical entertainment.

John "Chappy" Chapman, chef and owner of Chappy's Seafood Restaurant in Long Beach, will again host a booth of exciting dishes from his menu of Cajun specialties at the Food Fest.

A wide variety of arts and crafts booths will also be on the grounds. On-site camper hook-ups are available. For information and reservations, call OLA at 467-7048.

New attractions this year include a tennis tournament and a 5K run. The tennis tournament will be at the St. Stanislaus courts Oct. 3-4 and will include open doubles matches in ladies', men's and mixed divisions. Entry fee is $20.

Deadline for registration is Sept. 30. Proceeds will benefit OLA. For more information, call Myron Labat at 467-3732 or 467-9057, or Ann Heitzmann at 467-2675.

The Gulf Coast Running Club will host a 5K and 1 mile health run/walk on Oct. 3 at 8:30 a.m. from Henderson Point and across the Bay Bridge to the finish line on Beach Blvd.

Walkers, race walkers, and wheelchair participants are welcome. Registration fees are $9 for GCRC members and $10 for non-members by Sept. 26. Late registration (up to one hour before race time) will be $12.

For more information, call Arthur Geary at 467-8085 or Harry Hull at 452-3438.

Live entertainment will be provided under the oaks by some of the Coast's most popular bands. A highlight of the Food Fest schedule occurs on Saturday evening when the popular "Passport" of New Orleans will return. They will again entertain the festival audience with their exciting and diversified renditions of 50's, 60's, and 70's popular rock groups.

A $1,000 raffle is included in the plans for the Food Fest. Tickets, which cost $1 each, can be obtained from members of the OLA student body, from the school office (467-7048) and at the fair site.

The drawing will be at 5 p.m. on Sunday. The winner does not need to be present.

The OLA Athletic Department will be sponsoring a huge garage sale during the Food Fest. Persons interested in making donations to the cause should contact Coach Hull at 467-7048.

Our Lady Academy uses the Food Fest as a major activity to supplement the budget by raising funds to fill the gap between tuition and the cost of education.

This project involves the entire Christian community of OLA with cooking, manning booths, selling tickets, and gathering ad money.

Princess Fahey and the Teen Board of the Princess Shoppe raised $1,310 at their Fall Fashion Show for OLA. This money will be used to cover some of the expenses for the Food Fest.

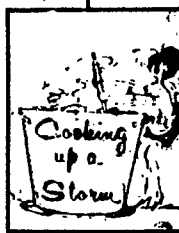

Autumn carries more gold in its hand than all the other seasons.

GOD'S LOVE HAS PAINTED THE BRILLIANT COLORS OF AUTUMN

The heat of summer's on the wane
And cooler breezes fill the air.
Though sunny days will still remain,
We soon will see the branches bare.
But first, the beauty to behold,
Of this, the climax of the year;
With leaves that turn to red and gold
Before they fade and disappear.
For whether maple, elm or oak,
Or other kinds, they turn to brown;
And soon, the pungent smell of smoke
Will prove they all came drifting down.
The lessons of our chosen creed
Are there to help us understand
The love that God displays, indeed,
When autumn's beauty paints the land.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Anyone who cooks on a regular basis usually has at least one or two speedy skillet dishes in her culinary bag of tricks, dishes which can be counted on to "save the day" on those busy, hectic days.

Sometimes, you've been away from home most of the day, or busy in the yard or around the house, and suddenly you realize that you should have started thinking about dinner-making quite a while ago! So, you head for the kitchen and grab the skillet and trot out the "old reliables."

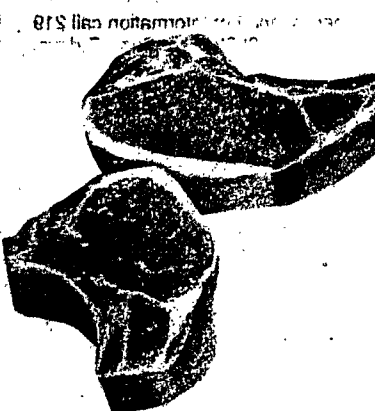

One of my favorites among these "reliables" is:

PORK CHOPS

AND SPANISH RICE

- 1 cup uncooked rice (regular rice)
- 4 pork chops (1-inch thick)
- 2 Tblsp. oil
- 3 cups coarsely chopped

- tomatoes
- 1 bell (green pepper, diced)
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1/2 tsp. pepper, salt optional
- 1/4 cup water
- Saute the rice in the oil in your large skillet, over medium-high heat for 3 or 4 minutes or until browned, stirring constantly. Remove the rice, and set aside. Add the pork chops to the skillet, browning them on both sides. Next, combine the rice, tomatoes, bell pepper, onion and pepper (and salt, if you're using it). Add the quarter-cup of water, lower the heat and cover the skillet. Simmer for 50 minutes to an hour or until the pork chops are tender. (4 servings)

If you've thought ahead, and the chops are in the fridge, fine; if they're frozen, thaw them in microwave or toaster broiler.

For another quick-fix skillet supper, try a frittata, the Italian cook's answer to the Frenchman's omelet, and speed up the process even more with frozen potatoes and slices of pepperoni. If you've no pepperoni, use ham chunks or even hot dogs, sliced. Or, cook up a vegetable frittata, using whatever's on hand. At any rate, here's:

PEPPERONI FRITTATA

- 6 large eggs
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/4 tsp. dried basil leaves, crushed
- 3 Tblsp. oil
- 1 pkg. (24-oz.) frozen O'Brien potatoes with onion and pepper
- 1/4 lb. pepperoni, sliced thin
- 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Mozzarella cheese
- 2 medium tomatoes, cut in wedges
- Dashes of pepper, salt to your taste

Using a medium-size bowl, beat the eggs with the milk and seasonings, and set aside. Heat the oil in a 10-inch skillet over medium-high heat. When hot, add the potato combination, and saute for just about 5 minutes. Add the pepperoni slices, mixing well with the potatoes.

Pour the egg mixture over the potato mixture, and cook the frittata over low heat until the eggs set. Then, using a spatula, lift the frittata so that the uncooked eggs flow underneath. Cover, and cook for 10 or 15 minutes as needed; you know how you like your omelets better than I. Remove the pan, and sprinkle the cheese all around the top edge of the frittata, letting it stand, covered, for a minute or so, or until the cheese melts. Arrange the tomato wedges atop, and serve at once. (6 servings)

If you're really pressed for time, use the shredded packaged cheese; if not, grate the cheese yourself. And, if you've a bit more time, peel and slice potatoes thinly, adding onions, pieces and bell pepper pieces—or, improvise as you will! (Copyright, 1992, Katharine D. M. Caire)

Ready for those autumn colors?

Get ready, y'all. Here comes fall again. And if Stan Krugman, director of research programs for the U.S. Forest Service is right on with his predictions, areas that have been deficient in rainfall will have a short-lived season of fall coloration this year.

Western (U.S.) "leaf peepers" should expect only a brief display in the next few months as winter approaches, according to Krugman. He says the Eastern part of the country should experience some excellent fall colors. That's us, folks, right here in good ole Mississippi.

If you want to do a quick check on the autumn coloration for any particular national forest in the country the U.S. Forest Service has a toll-free number you can call for weekly updates (1-800-354-4595) beginning Sept. 20 and lasting about six weeks.

Before you get too excited about the prospects for an awe-inspiring drive down the Natchez Trace or some winding, scenic backdrop in rural Mississippi one crisp fall evening soon, I'm compelled to warn you—Krugman says his predictions are "only as sound as the weatherman's." Boy, now that's a pretty "heavy" disclaimer don't you think? (just joshing, NOAA friends!)

Here's some more of what Dr. Krugman has to say about annual "coat of many colors" that nature starts to put on each year beginning about now: "While color changes are primarily brought on by the increasing hours of darkness that accompany the fall season, the timing and length of their appearance are also affected by weather," says the researcher. "Cooler weather will bring the colors out earlier. Wind, rain and snow storms all affect the length of mother nature's fall display."

Getting a bit more technical with his information, Krugman adds that "many of the autumn colors are in the leaves year-round and are simply hidden by the dominant green color during the summer months. The green is produced by pigments called chlorophylls which capture the sunlight and turn it into simple sugars and starch for food."

"During the fall months, changes in daylight and, to a lesser extent, temperature, slow food production. As the chlorophylls decrease, so does the green color, allowing the other pigments that were hidden by the leaves' green color to show through.

Pigments called carotenoids give the leaves of species like Hickory, Ginkgo, Tallowtree and Birch their yellow, brown and orange colors just as they give carrots and bananas their colors."

"We see less of the reds and purples of autumn because anthocyanins, the pigments creating those colors, are not found in all leaves," Krugman explains. "But when they do exist and mother nature mixes all the pigments on her pallet, we enjoy the dark purples, deep oranges, fiery red and bronze hues found especially in Dogwood, Sumac, Blackgum, Sweetgum and Oak."

I certainly hope Dr. Krugman is right about our chances for a pretty Fall season. If he is, I hope also that you'll help us keep wildfire out of that beautiful picture. Some of you won't, but thank goodness most of you will—and we thank those of you in the latter category for caring.

Substitute teacher test given Mon. at Hancock

A test for substitute teacher applicants will be given in the library at Hancock High on Stennis Airport Drive on Monday, September 25, 1992.

Applicants should come prepared with pencil and paper. The test is normally administered twice a year, in August and January.

Due to threatening weather conditions on August 24, an additional testing date has been added. The test will be administered from 8 a.m. to 11:30.

Following a lunch break, a substitute teacher workshop will be presented from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m. Applicants tested on August 24, those tested during the morning session, as well as previously employed substitutes are encouraged to attend.

For further information, please call Gaynell Roberts at 467-2251, extension 540.

Billups named Merchants v.p.

Guy Billups

William R. Allison, president of Merchants Bank & Trust Co. of Gulfport, announced Guy Billups III was promoted to vice president.

Billups, a native of Hammond La., joined Merchants Bank in February of 1987. He is a graduate of St. Stanislaus High School and attended the University of Mississippi.

He is a member of the Pass Christian Rotary Club and is on the Board of the Harrison County Fairgrounds Commission, Board of Directors of Merchants Bank & Trust Co., East Baton Rouge Parish First State Bank and Community State Bank of Hammond, La. Billups is active in the Tri-State and American Cowboy Association, and is on the Board of Directors of Windance Country Club.

He is married to the former Hattie Smith of Orange Grove, and they are expecting their first child in February.

HHS juniors win/lose one

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Hancock High junior high football squads walked away Thursday with one win and one loss against the Long Beach Bearcats.

Coach Fred Bilbo reported the 9th grade team to have defeated the Bearcats, 30-6, while the 7th/8th grade team fell short, leaving Long Beach with a 14-6 lead.

"We really have a good group on the 9th grade team," Bilbo stated. "They are the hardest working group of kids and it is paying off for them as they are outstanding in their performance as a team."

Kent Malley brought in two touchdowns, one for 53 yards and another for 64 yards; J.J. Hay ran 8 yards for a touchdown; and Jimmy Sanders, 2 yards for a TD. Malley also ran in three times for extra points.

PRC golf tourney Oct. 16

The sixth annual Pearl River Community College Alumni Homecoming Golf Tournament is set for Friday, Oct. 16, at the Pearl River Golf Club in Poplarville.

The four-person scramble format will allow only one "A" player per team. The field is limited to the first 92 players with tee-time set for 1 p.m. The cost of the 18-hole tournament is $40 per person. The fee includes green fees, cart rental and lunch.

The tournament is open to alumni, faculty, staff and friends of the college. All net proceeds will go to the Pearl River College Wildcat Club to support PRC athletic programs. Prizes will be in the form of both cash and gift certificates. Lunch will be provided at 12:30 p.m.

For more information, contact Larry Stanford at 795-6801, ext. 312.

"Our 7th/8th grade team played sloppy," he commented. "I was not pleased with their showing Thursday."

"We intend to work hard on improving on those mistakes made, and with some good effort and concentration, they can."

The 7th/8th grade team pushed through an 8-yard run in the fourth quarter for a showing on the board.

HHS takes on the Yellow Jackets Thursday at St. Martin High School in Ocean Springs; 7th/8th grade play begins at 5:30 p.m., and 9th grade play commences at 7 p.m.

Mississippi creel limits apply to all fish landed in state

Bureau of Marine Resources officials remind recreational fishermen that all fish caught in another state and landed in Mississippi must meet Mississippi creel limits.

BMR officers have written several tickets for fishermen caught with having too many red drum (redfish) that were brought into Mississippi from another state.

For example, the creel limit for redfish in Mississippi is three per day while the creel limit in Louisiana is five per day.

So, if a fisherman catches redfish in Louisiana, he's allowed to bring only three into Mississippi.
